UNANSWERABLE.

DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES ABLY DEFENDED LAST NIGHT.

Hon. F. W. Lehman Gives Abundant Reason Why the Democratic Party Should Triumph.

One of the most eloquent and unanswerable political speeches ever made in Sedalia was delivered at the court house last night by Hon. F. W. Lehman.

It had been announced that Hon. John T. Heard was to speak, but a severe cold contracted the day before made it impossible for that gentleman even to attend the meeting, but while his absence was deeply regretted by the hundreds of old friends who gathered to hear him, they were amply repaid for such attendance by the logical, eloquent and convincing address of Mr. Lehman.

Mayor Stevens called the meeting to order and, after explaining the unavoidable absence of Mr. Heard, introduced Mr. Lehman as the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Lehman began his address with the proposition that the business of politics is to promote the general welfare. We may differ in opinion on public matters, but our interests are the same. The great mass of the people derive no benefit from party success unless the principles of the party are right.

Usually state and national candidates of a party stand upon the same platform, but in Missouri we are treated to a diversion this year, for Major Warner seems to be impressed with the belief that, whatever else happens, he should be elected governor. He is republican enough to encourage the formation of Harrison and Warner clubs; he does not object to the organization of Cleveland and Warner clubs; he is populist enough to find something pleasing in the alliteration of Weaver and Warner; he does not even throw cold water upon the proposition of Bidwell and Warner; but Warner is the main plank in his platform always. The major is not too modest to represent himself as a savior come to redeem Missouri. But the Bible warns us of false messiahs, and Warner, like the Sioux messiah, will find his ghost dance of short duration.

Missouri has for thirty-two years, except a short period when people were disfranchised, been under democratic control while the national administration was republican.

Statistics show that Missouri has prospered in a greater degree than any of her sister agricultural states; that her taxes are lower, her expenses less per capita, her credit higher and her debt being reduced faster than in any republican farming state.

Statistics also show that it is the manufacturing states, the lumber states, and the mining states that have increased in greater proportion than Missouri, and the fact is it was national politics that retarded Missouri, and that Warner's proposition was simply to save the people of Missouri from themselves when the state had really prospered in a greater degree than any republican state where the industries are the same as in Missouri.

The speaker then took up the question of a protective tariff. In 1790 George Washington was reported as the only millionaire in the country. The population was 3,000,000 then and is 60,000,000 now, but the millionaires have increased to 4,047. According to the New York Tribune 75 per cent. of these millionaires are engaged in the protected industries of manufacturing, mining and lumber. The bulk of these are in the protected states; there is not one in Kansas, nor is there a straightout farmer millionaire in the country.

It is not "poor old Missouri" that is suffering, but it is the people all over the country whose industries are discriminated against by the policy of our national government.

The tariff taxes are called protection. Nobody ever calls state taxes protection, because the state taxes a man on what he possesses, that is according to his ability to pay, and a uniform tax of that kind is not protection. A tax can only be protective when it ceases to be uniform and equitable and gives one man an advantage over others—then it "protects" him.

This protective tariff is laid upon nearly all the necessities of life and increases their cost. The protected manufacturer receives higher prices under the theory that he will pay his employees higher wages. Does he do it? His friends the republicans are careful not to make these collectors give bond to pay out the money they collect to protect labor.

McKinley says the foreigner pays the tax. If so why did they give the sugar bounties when they reduced the tariff? Why admit salt free of duty for curing fish?

The old "infant industry" cry has been abandoned and the "home market" plea has been exposed. There is no such thing as a pauper laborer; a man who works and earns even the poorest living is not a pauper. The pauper is the man who enjoys a living he does not earn, and sometimes he lives in palaces cemented with the sweat of other men's brows.

Wages are higher here than in England; they are much higher here than in continental Europe or Asia; not because of protection, but because the superior intelligence of the American laborer enables him to earn more.

The excess of wages in this country is even greater in unprotected than in protected industries.

The American farmer pays his employees $15 to $20 per month and board and yet produces wheat that he sells in competition with wheat from India where wages are only 10 cents per day.

The American laborer gets more dollars for his day's work, but he gets it because he gives more work for his dollar.

Every working man must earn his wages and a profit for his employer. The labor that receives the lowest price per day is not the cheapest labor. The cheapest labor is that which produces most, and by this standard American labor is cheapest in the world.

As long as we can trade and exchange with other nations their labor benefits and does not injure us. We can compete with the Chinese as long as he remains in China; with the Hungarian as long as he is in Hungary.

But this character of labor hurts the American laborer when the Chinaman is brought here and put in the protected factories at Lowell, Mass., and the Hungarian laborer hurts him when brought here and employed at Homestead.

Labor cannot be well rewarded unless it produces much. But what the laborer is interested in is in the distribution of the wealth he has created. Wrongs in distribution build up the great fortunes. The safety of the rich few is that their wealth is divided up would give but little to each of the many poor.

But a cent a day from each person in the country would in one year make a fortune greater than Vanderbilt's. The protected industries understand this and they get their fortunes by taxing the many.

Laws cannot increase the production of wealth; they only affect its distribution, and the democracy promises the working man that it will take as little as possible from him after he has earned his wages. It will only require him to pay a fair portion of what is necessary to pay the legitimate expenses of the government.

Yeater at Sweet Springs.
The joint discussion between Hon. Chas. E. Yeater and Col. Boyd did not come off as advertised at Sweet Springs last night. Mr. Yeater was on hand but Col. Boyd was detained at home. Of course Mr. Yeater made an able speech for democracy. Mr. S. A. Wright, of Marshall, represented the third party.

Speaking at Lamont.
Hon. Chas. E. Yeater left today for Lamont where he speaks at a grand democratic rally tonight. Hon. John T. Heard was advertised to speak at same place but sickness will make it impossible for him to fill the appointment.

FRICK'S CASH.

IT IS A LOAD FOR THE REPUBLICAN MANAGERS.

His Contribution to the Republican Campaign Fund Will Lose that Party Votes.

The following dispatch from Chicago shows that the workingmen of the country begin to realize that the republican policy of protection is really the policy of the Pinkerton plutocracy and that its beneficiaries are the manufacturing barons and not the laborers.

Frick is the most cordially hated man in the country since the Homestead troubles, and that he should give an immense sum of money to the republican committee will convince many workingmen that a vote for that party is a vote in Frick's interest.

Following is the dispatch referred to:

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 4.—The Frick episode continues the chief topic of political conversation in Chicago. The national democratic headquarters have been thronged all day with prominent labor men of both parties, asking for further information concerning Frick's connection with the republican national campaign committee. The widespread indignation among the workingmen of Chicago over the startling developments of the past few days has not been inspired by democratic campaign committees. It was a spontaneous exhibition of wrath, which burst into a flame the moment Frick's name was mentioned in connection with politics, and no measures on the part of the republican managers can allay their feelings of resentment against the party which has accepted a $200,000 bribe from Carnegie's henchman. The labor unionists have taken the matter into their own hands and are "covering" dead walls with three-sheet posters headed "At Homestead, July 7, 1892."

Beneath this is a cartoon representing the Pinkerton men shooting down workmen, women and children. Overhead is a cloud of smoke, with the inscription "Protection," and beneath the cartoon appears the following:
Cablegram, Carnegie to Harrison: SUNNINGDALE, Scotland, June 12, '92.—To BENJAMIN HARRISON, Washington, D. C.: The American people know a good thing when they see it. Heartiest congratulations. You deserve this triumph.

EXPLODED THE LIGHTS.
The Breaking of the Machinery at the Electric Light Plant Proves a Costly Accident.

About 6 o'clock last evening, the "governor" of the engine which supplies the power for the incandescent lights at the electric street railway plant broke and the engine became uncontrollable. It ran away and caused no little excitement.

A wild locomotive was hardly a circumstance to the way in which the big engine began to break her record. The big drive wheel ran so fast that one could hardly see it. The ordinary voltage of the incandescent lights is about 500 volts; it was increased to perhaps 2,000 volts by the accident. The globes on the street cars grew white with heat, many of them bursting with a bang. In one instance, a globe with its immediate attachment was thrown completely off its fastening. Some of the cars will have to be re-wired.

The belts finally flew off and the damage ceased.

CIRCULATION.

There are more Sedalia people regular readers of the EVENING DEMOCRAT than any other paper.

New York is all right and so is New Jersey.

INDIANA is lost to the republicans this year.

SEDALIA and Pettis county are both democratic.

The republican county ticket will be defeated from Kirk to Dump, both inclusive.

VOTE for your own interests on election day. Carnegie has been "protected" long enough.

KANSAS has turned her back upon the republican party and Colorado will do likewise.

HARRISON will be the worst defeated presidential candidate since the candidacy of Horace Greeley.

ONLY three more days until Major Warner "sits down for Missouri." He will not sit in the governor's chair either.

The office of constable is an important one, but no one doubts W. D. Wallace's ability to fill it properly and perform any duty required of him.

DR. E. MUEHL has made a faithful, competent and zealous officer and his friends will see that he is re-elected in spite of the bitter fight against him.

DEMOCRATS, go to the polls early on election day and vote and then put in the balance of the day trying to convert some republican from the error of his way.

THURSDAY, November 24th, is named as Thanksgiving day. It will be observed by the democrats of this country with more than ordinary unanimity.

The present assessor of Pettis county will succeed himself. There is no better democrat than J. M. Logan and no official in any county is more zealous or faithful in the performance of duty.

WHAT is the business of the public is your business. If you employ a lawyer, you want a good one, of experience. Next Tuesday you will employ W. D. Steele or Louis Hoffman to attend to legal business for you and for the county for two years. Vote for Steele, a lawyer of known ability and established success.

PAY THE MONEY.

A few days ago, with a grand flourish of trumpets, the Gazette said it was authorized to deny that Sheriff Smith had said "I don't want any d—n democrat's vote," and the paper also pledged Mr. Smith to pay $500 to any charity the DEMOCRAT might name if proof could be furnished that he had used the language.

Promptly the DEMOCRAT published the sworn statement of three gentlemen who heard Mr. Smith use the language.

No counter affidavits have been furnished by the Gazette, only a weak denial by the gentleman himself.

No fair and unprejudiced man, in face of the evidence, can doubt the truth of the charge.

But to make the case even stronger, and to absolutely insure the payment of the $500 to the charity hospital, the DEMOCRAT furnishes the following additional testimony:

Rev. J. T. Cowan, a minister of the gospel widely known and esteemed in Sedalia and Pettis county, testifies as follows:

STATE OF MISSOURI,
COUNTY OF PETTIS.
J. T. Cowan, being duly sworn, on his oath, says he was present at the city election in Sedalia last April and heard Ellis R. Smith use the following language: "I don't want any d—n democrat's vote."

STATE OF MISSOURI,
COUNTY OF PETTIS.
Before me, a notary public, appeared J. T. Cowan, who, upon oath, states the above facts to be correct. W. H. POWELL, Jr., Notary Public.

The next is from Mr. Claude Mitchum, also a well-known and reputable citizen:

STATE OF MISSOURI,
COUNTY OF PETTIS.
Claude Mitchum, being duly sworn, on his oath, says that at the last city election, at the first ward voting place, he heard Ellis R. Smith, in conversation, make use of the following language: "I don't want any damned democrat's vote." C. MITCHUM.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3d day of November, 1892. JAS. M. STEELE, Justice of the Peace.

Now, the DEMOCRAT submits that it has fairly and conclusively proven the truth of the charge, and in the name of sweet charity, as well as good faith, insists that Sheriff Smith send his check for $500 to the treasurer of the city hospital.

If in the hurry of the campaign Mr. Smith forgets it the treasurer of the institution will please call upon him for the contribution. He will give it cheerfully, for he is not the kind of a man to go back on a charity hospital.

J. H. Pilkington and V. P. Hart, two of the shining lights of the local democracy, will realize next Tuesday night that they are mighty small potatoes in the political pile. The day has passed when Pilkington and Hart can lead the railroad vote of Sedalia around by the nose, as they will discover when they bob up for office again, as bob they certainly will. Peace to their ashes.—Gazette.

Hart and Pilkington have been railroad men themselves, and they are still interested in the welfare of railroad men; they have shown this interest by their labors for the enactment of such laws as railroad men desire to see enacted, and in a thousand other ways. Neither of them is a candidate, and the Gazette's campaign against them will show railroad men that a man frequently gets "spotted" because he is a friend of the railway employees. The Gazette's fight against Hart and Pilkington can be explained in no other way, for they are among the very few democrats who have been marked for the slaughter. Perhaps railroad men will see in this warfare upon their friends a reason why they should stand by those who have stood by them, and, under the circumstances, feel it their duty to vote against the party whose organ thus plainly shows some secret and deep-seated malice against these gentlemen.

THE Bolivar Herald has this to say of the campaign of the A. P. A. against certain democratic candidates, and it will apply to Pettis as well as to Polk county: "A great many circulars have been distributed in this county calling upon voters to scratch certain men, principally on the democratic ticket, on account of their religious belief. This is plainly a republican trick, and is so transparent that no one should be deceived by it. Our government when first founded guaranteed to all liberty of religious belief. Parties are formed without regard to such belief, and all parties contain men of opposite religious opinions. When one denomination proscribes another, it invites proscription for itself, and if this spirit is not checked, we should soon have a state religion, and the strongest will rule. The separation of state and church should be, and will be preserved, and these circulars are only intended to fool somebody out of their votes, by a very reprehensible appeal to their prejudices."

THE sworn statement of Mr. Frank Landmann in yesterday's DEMOCRAT completely exonerates Mr. James S. Hopkins from the cruel campaign slander that had been circulated against him to the effect that he had sold out in a former political contest. The story is said to have originated with a bitter partisan republican named Jones, of Longwood township. Mr. Landmann is a republican also, and his statement puts Mr. Jones in a right tight place, especially when it is backed up by a sworn statement from Mr. Hopkins and the testimony of Judge Baker. The fair-minded, conservative citizens of Pettis county will rally to the support of Mr. Hopkins as the most effective rebuke to the character of the campaign against him.

If the count in Sedalia township is not completed in time to announce in the Gazette of next Wednesday morning the fault will be wholly with the democratic county court in failing to have provided a sufficient number of voting places.—Gazette.

Not entirely with the court, neighbor. There was Mr. Louis Hoffman, republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, and other prominent republicans who approved the plan and must share in the moral responsibility for any great calamity like the failure of the Gazette to get the returns for its morning issue.

EVERY day lengthens the list of notable conversions from the g. o. p. that was. In yesterday's roll, says the Carthage Democrat, appears the name of a distinguished soldier, Union League club light and veteran republican, Gen. Rush C. Hawkins. He takes care that there shall be no question of the fact of his change and no mystery about his motives. He abandons a degenerate and perverted political organization which has become merely a "bribe sower and vote grower," unworthy of the respect of any patriot American.

It taxes are blessings then are the United States most richly endowed, says an exchange. If schemes for governmental support can be approved by which it can be shown that the rich are hereby made richer and the poor poorer, then the financial methods of the republican party can be pronounced to have been born in wisdom and executed in mercy and beneficence.

THE Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, has raised a fund of $1,000,000 to help carry the election in the interest of the poor working men. But, asks the Free Press, with a law already in operation, framed ostensibly for their benefit, how does it come that these surplus millions are in the hands of a few favored citizens?

THE address by Hon. F. W. Lehman at the court house last night is universally pronounced one of the strongest and most logical ever delivered in Sedalia. If there are many such speakers as Mr. Lehman in Iowa, no wonder that state has reformed politically.

NO DEMOCRAT should be too busy or too confident of party success to go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. Battles have been lost by carelessness and parties have been defeated by the "stay at home" vote.

WHEN Major McKinley assured his hearers that a vote for his friend Warner is a vote for "protection" he uttered a truth that workingmen should remember on election day.

THE railroad men remember Billy Steele's work in their behalf. The author of the anti-blacklisting bill has a right to expect the support of working men.

Fred Beaumont, from la belle France, was before Recorder Rauck this morning as the result of too much jag juice. Frederick claimed to be "73 years old, though he did not look it." A fine of $7 was assessed with a stay to get out of town. He startled the judge by saying that he would do the proper thing by sending the money as soon as he got to Kansas City.

TARIFF CATECHISM.

Questions and Answers That Go to the Root of the Tariff Debate.

The following questions and answers were found among the papers of the late George Otis, of Roselle, N. J.

Q: What is the meaning of the word tariff?

A: It is so called because hundreds of years ago sea pirates of Tariffa, Spain, forced every passing vessel to pay for the privilege of going into and from the Mediterranean sea.

Q: What is the meaning now?

A: A certain sum forced from the people by land pirates.

Q: Why say then by force?

A: Because the republican congress says to the people: "Stand and deliver!"

Q: Stand and deliver to whom?

A: To certain favored manufacturing interests.

Q: Where in the constitution is congress empowered to pass a law to compel the many to support the few, the poor to contribute to the rich?

A: In no part of it.

Q: Then where did it find the power?

A: In the Bible.

Q: Give the book, chapter and verse.

A: Matthew, thirteenth chapter, twelfth verse: "For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath."

Q: Is such a law republican in the sense of being democratic—a government in which the people rule?

A: No. It is aristocratic.

Q: What do you mean by aristocratic?

A: A government wherein a few rob the many; where the many work to help support the privileged few.

Q: Explain how the tariff law establishes an aristocracy in a democratic government.

A: Congress says to the poor: Because this or that man is rich and produces iron or cotton or woolen goods, you shall pay him so much money for so many pounds or yards, or go naked and work without tools."

Q: What reason does Congress give for such a tyrannical law?

A: Congress says the law is a differentiation of industrial function of the poor and the difference goes to the rich.

Q: Is that the only reason Congress gives?

A: No. It says the tariff is intended to foster infant industries at home.

Q: Are the iron, cotton and wool industries infants?

A: No; they are a hundred years old.

Q: What date has Congress fixed for these industries to become of age?

A: When Gabriel blows his horn. One Congressman did move to fix a later date, but when reminded that asbestos was not protected he withdrew his motion.

Q: What is the meaning of a protective tariff?

A: Protection of the rich from getting poor and the poor from getting rich.

Q: What is the difference between the tenants in Ireland and the farmers in America?

A: None. In both, the tax gatherer lives in the east and the sheriff is after both.

Q: Is there any similarity between the Irish tenants and the American farmers?

A: Yes, the tenants are too poor to stay and the farmers too poor to leave.

Q: Is that the only benefit the republican protection confers upon the poor?

A: No. It improves their morals; keeps them from having useless desires.

Q: How does protection produce such results?

A: The poor have to work so hard to support the rich that they have no time for mischief. Having no surplus money with which to travel, they see nothing new and their desires are kept dormant. That brings content.

Police Court.

Fred Beaumont, from la belle France, was before Recorder Rauck this morning as the result of too much jag juice. Frederick claimed to be "73 years old, though he did not look it." A fine of $7 was assessed with a stay to get out of town. He startled the judge by saying that he would do the proper thing by sending the money as soon as he got to Kansas City.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Private Secretary," the most amusing home-spun comedy will be produced at Wood's opera house Wednesday, Nov. 6.

Since its last presentation here, Mr. Gillette has made several important changes in the play, which are chronicled as most emphatic improvements. He condensed the original third act into the second act, wrote an entirely new third act, giving an entirely different coloring to the finale of his humorous story. The comedy comprises many well known comedians, and was especially selected for the present tour by Mr. Edwin Travers to present the play in excellence, exceeding all past efforts. To this end he certainly has succeeded in receiving the encomiums of the press, where the company have appeared.

The old secretary is said to have renewed his youthful vigor of former days and seems to be in a much healthier condition than ever. Unquestionably, he may be well christened the prince of consistent humor. His droll happenings, his numerous errors, interrupted with quaint sayings and ridiculous funny posings spun in a most artful manner by the clever author, keeps an audience in a constant strain of rich laughter, and those who have enjoyed it, seem to relish it as eagerly each season as at its initial introduction.

THROWN FROM A HORSE.

A Young Man Comes Near Getting His Neck Broken by Careless Riding.

Late yesterday afternoon Judson Fast, son of Lawyer Fast, met with an accident that came near ending seriously.

He had taken the carriage horse out on the street and was riding it without a bridle or saddle, when the animal commenced bucking. Young Fast was unable to hold on and was thrown to the ground, striking upon his head and shoulders. The street was very hard and the young man was badly stunned.

He revived, however, and was at once attended to by Drs. E. F. Yancy and R. L. Shadburne. His forehead was much swollen and lacerated on the right side and his lower lip was terribly gashed on the inside where his teeth had been forced almost through. There were several other painful bruises, but luckily no bones were broken.

Edison is not Failing.

The French have it that inventor Thomas A. Edison has totally declined since his marriage and that his Menlo Park laboratory has been abandoned for want of money, Edison's supporters have stopped supplies. According to cablegrams from Paris the electrical societies there are delighted at Edison's decay and have heralded it throughout the country. Mme. Gouraud, a friend of the inventor, took occasion yesterday to deny the allegation. Anybody who visits the great electrician at Menlo park and sees him at work in his laboratory would never get the idea that he was not in his prime. As a matter of fact, Edison has produced many marvelous inventions since his last marriage, including the phonographic doll and a system of aerial telegraphy to overcome the overture of the earth. The greater part of his work, however, has been in the way of improving previous inventions and this he has been eminently successful. Edison looks today like a man of about 35 to 40. His real age is 49.

A Cholera Scare.
A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by Aug. Fleischmann, Druggist.

Too Much of a Risk.
It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty-cent bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon. For sale by Aug. Fleischmann.

Twelve Hundred United States
Deputies For New York.

HOSTILITIES ARE ALMOST CERTAIN.

If the Democrats Stand By Sheehan's Position There Will Be Trouble—Sheriff Gorman Swearing in Deputies —Brooklyn Specials.

New York, Nov. 5.—Twelve hundred United States deputy marshals were sworn in yesterday for duty at the polls next Tuesday. The work was performed by United States Commissioner Shields.

After the men were sworn in they were assigned to the assembly districts where they shall serve and the warrants and official badges were furnished them by United States Marshal Jacobus.

In reply to an inquiry from the secretary of the republican club of Erie county as to what court the trial would occur in in case a United States deputy marshal be arrested by a municipal officer, United States District Attorney Alexander answered that it would be in the United States circuit court.

HARD TO AVOID TROUBLE.

New York, Nov. 5.—If both parties adhere to their position it does not appear at present just how a clash is going to be prevented between the federal and state authorities. Both insist that they are in the right and both are instructing their deputies to prevent the other from carrying out the commands of their superiors. The situation is very grave. And while both parties fear trouble neither seems to be doing anything to prevent it. The members of the democratic national committee approve the action of the state committee in advising citizens to arrest marshals who attempt to enforce those parts of the United States statutes which conflict with state laws, and it is said by the Evening Post that Chairman Harrity, of the democratic national committee, will issue a manifesto on the subject before election day. A republican national and state headquarters it was said that the marshals would certainly go within the rails at the polls and that no authority, state or city, had any right to prevent them from doing so.

Edward Mitchell, attorney for the southern district of New York, has written a letter to the United States marshal and inspector of elections announcing Mr. Sheehan's instructions, in which he cites the law as contained in the revised statutes, and continues: "Will you kindly instruct each supervisor of election and deputy marshal that whenever there is any conflict between the law of the United States and the law of the state the law of the United States is paramount."

"You will also please inform all such supervisors of election and deputy marshals that the United States intends to carry out the provisions of section 2019 of the United States revised statutes and to see that every supervisor of election and every deputy marshal, if requested to support him by such supervisor of election, shall be allowed to take any position behind the guard rail he sees fit on election day, and that any person interfering with them in any way while they are in the performance of their duty behind the guard rail, can at once be arrested without process under section 5522 of the United States revised statutes."

"I would suggest that a copy of this letter should be furnished to each supervisor of election and deputy marshal."

Mr. Mitchell said to a United press reporter: "Mr. Sheehan's proclamation was ill advised and was simply an incitement to riot. The United States marshals and supervisors will be supported by the military if need be."

Sheriff John J. Gorman has begun swearing in a corps of special deputies in case of emergency. "I have received no official communications," said he,
"but from what I have read I believe the situation warrants me in making preparations to maintain the public peace. I am responsible to the state for the peace of this county, and I will see that the peace is preserved. The police will be on special duty and I therefore think that more deputies are needed."

Over in Brooklyn, according to the authorities, the inadequacy of the Brooklyn police force to properly patrol the city and do duty at the polling places on election day has necessitated the appointment of 640 "special officers" by Commissioner Hayden. The "special," who will be paid $2.50 per day, are composed principally of men who are recommended by their respective ward associations. There are also a few unemployed union war veterans among the specials.

HOW IT MAY BE DONE.

How Dry People in Dry Counties May Obtain Liquor From Wet Counties.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 5.—Attorney-General Miller has made a reply as follows to the Liquor Dealers' Protective association on certain inquiries relating to the new law on drams: "There is nothing to prevent a licensed dealer in a 'wet' county shipping wine or liquors into a 'dry' county on the receipt of cash or mail orders, provided he does not solicit or negotiate the sale in a 'dry' county."

Second—He cannot ship C. O. D. orders because the sale is not complete until delivery is made, and would therefore be a sale in the "dry" county. The carrier of goods shipped C. O. D. is the shipper's agent.

FOUR Double Murder.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Thake, Swedish settlers on a claim about three miles from Olarche, I. T., were found dead outside their house yesterday morning. Both had been shot, and the surroundings indicate a foul murder. The couple were aged 34 and 32 years respectively.

DEMOCRATIC APPEAL.

The National Committee Appeals For Best Efforts to Secure the Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The following address "To the people of the United States" has been issued by the democratic national committee:

The presidential campaign will soon end. It is right and necessary that we should now say a few words to you. There is no man, woman or child in the United States who is not affected by our tariff laws. They enter into and regulate the expenses of daily life of every individual. Since 1855 less than 1000 men in this country have been, by reason of the individual or corporate wealth under their control, the masters of our tariff system. Their power has been sufficient to enforce the continuance and increase in time of peace of taxes on necessities of life, originally imposed in a time of war only because of actual needs of the government.

Under the system of war taxes thus continued the part of its cost in this country has essentially changed. The wealth, which under former laws, was distributed among all classes engaged in industrial life, has centered in the hands of a few. These have accumulated fortunes unequalled in any European state and set an example of prodigious wealth to the world. The masses of the people who toil in the fields, or gain their bread by the labor of their brains and hands, struggle on scarcely looking to their own interests, and you know that this class controls and uses the government. It is a class of moneyed men, combined for sordid purposes and actually ruling the republican party. The federal obligation of its machinery. Its machinery of operation is intimidation of workmen and the corrupt use of money in no country in the whole world, in which the people have the right to vote, has a purpose other than the use of money to buy more plainly said. The enormous sums gathered in broad daylight from the contributing thousands, the characters of the men who are openly selected to put this money where in their vulgar speech, it will do the most good and the least harm to the people, is daily seen by all men. You will not remain passive spectators of this scene. The people of the state of New York, remembering the high character and public service of Grover Cleveland, and knowing that his election is a certain guarantee of a wiser, purer and better government, will rally to his support. He will win an overwhelming victory in his well beloved state.
The farmers and workmen of Grover Cleveland, and knowing that his election is a certain
guarantee of a wiser, purer and better government, will rally to his support. He will win an overwhelming victory in his well beloved state.

The farmers and workmen of Grover Cleveland, and knowing that his election is a certain
guarantee of a wiser, purer and better government, will rally to his support. He will win an overwhelming victory in his well beloved state.
The farmers and workmen of Grover Cleveland, and knowing that his election is a certain
guarantee of a wiser, purer and better government, will rally to his support. He will win an overwhelming victory in his well beloved state.

You will bear in mind that you owe to the few men who maintain the present corrupting and the United States, the greatest good to be done to the people of this country. That was a measure introduced for the purpose of furthering republican partisan schemes. Under it they could have used the federal judiciary for political purposes, and have employed an army of federal officers, paid for out of the public treasury, to control the coming presidential election and all elections for members of congress. Failing in this plan they have sought to put their hands in their pockets and raised the campaign fund. President Harrison is in favor of any method of carrying federal elections which that dangerous bill supplies. The conduct of the republican leaders who are the sincere of his campaign does not, we are sure, deceive you.

You must on November 8 make a choice which will vitally affect the interests of your country. The individual vote of each one of you is of supreme importance. Grover Cleveland, as president, the highest and best controlling motive and rule of his administrative action and of the whole democratic and independent vote united in his support, will be the greatest good to be done to the people of this country. The individual number and public office will be sacredly regarded as a public trust. The civil service will not be dragged against its will through the mire of nominating conventions, but the laws regarding the honest and pure government, and culture and commerce, growing steadily side by side, under wiser laws will greatly increase our national prosperity. Our manufacturers will keep pace with our population and individual producers possess a greater measure of prosperity. The working man in the field and in the shop will find that his wants are more taken into account and his reasonable demands more readily listened to.
No combination will be able to dictate laws to Grover Cleveland.

We ask every one of you—each in his own election precinct and election district—to labor without ceasing for Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson and for good government and democratic principles. On election day of election lay aside all duties except the duties of that day. Protect your respective polls against bribery, fraud or intimidation. No balance of authority can empower anyone to interfere with the lawful casting of your rightful ballots. There is behind each of you a force of public opinion and a power of actual lawful law which will assuredly hold to strict account the men who are now endeavoring to defeat the fair expression of your will. The rights of the people are at stake of victory. Make it an overwhelming triumph for Grover Cleveland.

A practical joke caused the reformation of a toper in Peoria. While he was in a drunken slumber, his partner was poked his room and filled the bed and his pockets with living horned toads.
Half an hour later he saw the toper on his knees praying, and vowing that he would never touch intoxicants again.

An absent-minded New York woman went the other day to do some shopping for the family, and only discovered that she had forgotten to put on a bonnet when she caught sight of her reflection in a big store window on her way home.

BLOODY END.

A Negro Desperado Kills a United States Deputy.

THE NEGRO KILLED BY OTHERS.

Tragic Scene on a Passenger Train From Texas.—The Stain Deputy Proves to Be One of the Woodpeckers,
Also a Desperado.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Nov. 5.—The half sleeping passengers in the negro compartment of last night's north bound Santa Fe were suddenly aroused about 11 o'clock by two sharp reports from a pistol. Straightening up they found lying in the aisle a gasping man from whose head spurted blood and brains.
Standing over him they saw a big yellow negro with a smoking revolver in his hand. Scarcely had they comprehended what they saw when the door between the two compartments flew open and with drawn revolvers in jumped two men.
The negro straightened up and his revolver spoke. It was answered instantly and the negro fell with his feet nearly touching the head of the man he had just wounded mortally. He tried to rise, but a pistol rang out three times and the huge form of the negro con-vulsed and sank back.

The actors of this blood curdling scene were Tom Smith, Dave Booker and Ingram, all deputy United States marshals, and a negro who is thought to be the notorious "Commodore Miller," who, after killing a policeman in Dallas, Tex., gave the officers and bloodhounds a lively chase for nearly a week. The marshals boarded the train in this city and were bound for Ardmore. The negro got on at Fort Worth and was enroute to Guthrie, Ok. When he entered the train the negro took a seat in the coach provided for whites and left it reluctantly at the command of the conductor.

When the marshals boarded the train they saw a man who they suspected of having whisky with him. The man seized the marshals eyeing him went forward into the negro compartment.
As soon as the train crossed Red River bridge Marshal Smith went forward intending to search the man's effects for whisky and to arrest him if any were found. Just as Smith shoved open the door the negro, without any warning, pulled his gun and fired at the officer.
The bullet struck Smith on the head just above the eye. Just as he fell the negro shot again, the bullet striking him in the hands.

Booker and Ingram, who were in one of the coaches, ran forward. Just as Booker opened the door the negro fired at him. The bullet grazed his neck.
Booker then fired and the negro fell with a ball in his abdomen. Booker fired three more shots, each one taking effect in the negro's abdomen.
Smith was sinking rapidly and when the train reached Thackerville, three miles distant, he died. The negro lived until the train reached Marietta, which is about twenty miles distant from this place. Both bodies were taken on to Ardmore, where "Miller" will be buried to-morrow. Smith's body will be sent to Paris, where his family lives, for burial.

Smith died just as he had caused many others to die. He was the leader of the Woodpecker faction in the race war which prevailed several years ago in Washington county, this state. It is said of him that in one battle he killed seven men without removing the Winchester from his shoulder. Later he was marshal of Taylor, Tex., where he is said to have killed two men. He organized the expedition of Texas marshals who went to Wyoming last spring to participate in the war between the "rustlers" and the cattlemen. He, like the rest, was arrested and was released on his own recognizance only a short time ago.

The dead negro is thought to be "Commodore Miller," as he corresponds to the description of Miller. This belief is somewhat strengthened by the fact that he shot without the slightest provocation, believing it is thought, that the officer intended to arrest him.

BUSINESS ACTIVE.

Notwithstanding the Presidential Election —Extreme Low Price of Wheat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Even in the last week before a presidential election business has continued very active; indeed, the volume is far beyond any precedent for a similar period. The coming election has plainly diminished business in two ways: multitudes have been diverted from trade to political activity, and many more have chosen to postpone transactions until the political uncertainty has been removed. The fact that even under such circumstances trade has been of enormous volume shows how powerful is the impetus toward activity and expansion. The people are clearly buying more goods than ever before, and in some branches manufacturers are realizing a sharp advance in prices.
Money is closer at some western points, but nowhere is stringency seen or apprehension as to the immediate future.

Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known in this market, 73½c, and receipts at western points being still enormous, though this week averaging a little less than 1,500,000 bushels daily. Exports have much increased and a recovery in price to 74½c cents has resulted, but the decline for the week is still 1½c. Corn has fallen a cent with moderate movement, but oats are a cent higher.

Clearing house returns for the week ended November 4 showed an average increase of 20.2 compared with the corresponding week of last year. In New York the increase was 21.8.

THE ALABAMA ELECTION.

United States Marshal Walker Determined on Supporting the Federal Supervisors.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 5.—The appointment by United States Marshal Walker of deputies for the election, and the subsequent telegram of Gen.
Shelley, chairman of the democratic campaign committee, to the chairman of the Dallas county committee, to arrest the deputies should they come within thirty feet of the polls, have caused some apprehension that there will be a conflict between the state and federal authorities on election day.

Gen. Shelley is determined on the one hand to make the state laws paramount in the management of this election and Marshal Walker is equally determined that the United States statutes shall control. Marshal Walker has issued instructions to his deputies in which he clearly sets out the duties and says:
"Your duty is that of a peace officer, and you are directed that at the polls you are to keep order, preserve the peace and protect the United States' supervisors against violence or intimidation in the discharge of their official duties. In the event an arrest becomes necessary you are directed to carry the person arrested before the nearest United States commissioner. Your rights as peace officers in making the arrest of the persons interfering with United States supervisors are supreme over that of any state officers. If it becomes necessary in making the arrest you have the right to summon to your aid any sheriff, deputy, or any other person to make the arrest, and, if any so summoned refuses to give you such aid, you will at once notify this office. This is
